Crackling Good

Brendan Long, a second grader at St. Augustine School, paused long enough to sate his appetite for a luscious, red reward during his field trip to Smolak Farm in North Andover last week.

State Says Planner Working Papers Are Public Record

By Susan K. O'Neill

To the man in the street, they are dry bits of information—the stuff of meetings most laymen would willingly miss to watch a football game or read a good book.

To the Planning Board, they are preliminary working drafts, the release of which might mislead the public.

To the League of Women Voters, they are public records.

Recently, one more opinion has surfaced on the status of a sheaf of Planning Board documents entitled "Staff Proposals for Revision of Subdivision Rules and Regulations"—rough-draft papers denied to the League by the board at a July meeting.

The newest opinion is a weighty one; it belongs to James W. Ingroe, the state's supervisor of public records, to whom Andover League President Jean Salazar appealed the denial of access. And it supports the League's contention that the man in the street is, indeed, entitled to sift through those documents at will, even though they may be in rough-draft form.

Ingroe's decision on the matter, stated in an Oct. 3 letter to Town Counsel Alfred Daniels, found that even rough drafts, once released to the board, are public records unless they fit within a narrowly-defined exemption under state laws governing freedom of information. According to the letter, "Staff Proposals for Revision of Subdivision Rules and Regulations" merits no such distinction. Ingroe therefore directed the Planning Board to provide the League with the requested papers "within ten (10) days," or risk "notification to the Department of the Attorney General for enforcement."

Regarding the board's contention that "premature" release of working drafts might mislead the public, Ingroe's letter added, "It may be prudent for the Andover Planning Board to notify requesters that the disclosed information may contain inaccuracies. This should avoid any confusion."

In the opinion of the letter's recipient Attorney Daniels, Ingroe's opinion is just that—it's only an opinion. It's not the law; it's one man's opinion of how that law should be interpreted."

According to Daniels, a meaningful legal decision could be rendered—by the court system. Whether the town and the League will ultimately carry the issue to court, he indicated, rests in the hands of Town Manager Kenneth Mahony.

Mahony is out of town until Oct. 20.

Asked what the board plans to do in the light of the decision, Planning Board Chairman Michael Houghton declined comment until he has had the chance to confer with Mahony and legal counsel.

In the meantime, League President Salazar has not received the documents she requested. However, the board has released a 66-page draft of its new proposed subdivision rules and regulations to the League, the press and, as the cover letter states, "all interested parties," in preparation for a public hearing to be held Oct. 28 on the matter.

Although the release of this board-approved preliminary draft would appear to render the controversy over access to the earlier papers moot, it reportedly has no relationship to Ingroe's decision. It is the stated policy of the board to release information in final draft form at (or, in this case, in anticipation of) public hearings.

Salazar is quick to note that the infor-

Annual Bike Auction Scheduled

The Andover Police Department will conduct its annual bicycle auction beginning at 10 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 25.

The bicycles have been accumulated over the past year as theft recoveries or simply left on the street and picked up or dropped off at the station.

There will be other unclaimed items auctioned as well, such as a rubber raft. The auction will take place to the rear of the police station.

Town Glass Drive This Saturday

Andover's monthly glass drive will be held this Saturday, Oct. 18, in the town hall parking lot on Bartlet Street right next to the park. Only clear and green glass bottles and jars should be recycled. The two colors are kept separate in a large divided bin furnished each month by North Atlantic Recycling Services.

Andover Recycling, Inc. volunteers will be on the site from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. to assist townspeople who need help unloading their cars.

Solid participation in the glass drives and paper recycling program saves Andover over $30 per ton in tipping fees that would have to be paid to unload the town's solid waste at the incineration plant in North Andover. Recycling saved the town more than $4,000 in tipping fees for the month of September.

Post Office In Need Of Parking Spaces

Tthe Andover Post Office is requesting that any interested parties contact the Postmaster regarding 30 parking spaces needed for postal employees.

The parking spaces will be on a rental basis and are needed immediately. If interested, contact Tony Mendoza, Postmaster, at the post office.

Fitness Challenge Scheduled

The Andover Physical Education Department will sponsor the Third Annual Fitness Challenge for Andover girls and boys ages 9-14. The purpose of the fitness challenge is to determine the top fitness student in each of the six fitness events of the President's Youth Fitness Test.

Participants will be from the four elementary schools and two junior high schools.

The outside events will be held at Doherty Junior High School track at 4 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 23.

The inside events will be held at 7 p.m. in the Dunn Gymnasium at Andover High School.

A small donation will be requested for the evening event.

Sen. McGovern Announces Office Hours

State Senator Patricia McGovern (D-Lawrence, Second Essex and Middlesex) will hold office hours on Thursday, Oct. 16, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Andover Senior Center.

McGovern, or a member of her staff, will meet with constituents from her district. Individuals with questions or concerns regarding pending legislation or other state matters are encouraged to stop by.

Academic Decathlon Team Will Focus On Constitution Theme

By Susan K. O'Neill

What's the connection between the Constitution of the United States, the Renaissance and Shakespeare's "Hamlet?"

Why would 12 Andover High School students give up their free time twice a week to eat popcorn and assume responsibility for becoming knowledgeable in ten academic areas?

The Andover High School Academic Decathlon team will ably answer the first question by Nov. 22.

The answers to the second question are as varied as the students: some students like the excitement of competition of minds; others like learning as a team. And the fact that parents, colleges, teachers and fellow students recognize the uniqueness of this mental sport also adds to its appeal.

The Academic Decathlon is the only nationally-recognized academic competition. Sponsored by World Book Encyclopedia, the Decathlon began in California in 1968. During the last few years, the contest has swiftly gained intense national interest and support. In each state, high schools send team members and alternates to a preliminary competition in November. The top-scoring schools then compete in the state finals in February. The winning team goes on to compete in the natiional competition—which will take place this year in Dallas, Texas.

As the name implies, the competition features ten academic areas: mathematics, science, economics, social studies, language and literature, fine arts, speech, essay writing and interviewing skills. The culminating event is a "Superquiz" that is based on an annual theme. In honor of the 200th anniversary of the ratification of the U.S. Constitution, this year's topic is that historic document.

A unique feature of the Decathlon is the fact that the six-person state-level team, which will be chosen from the present twelve members, must include two students with an A average, two students with a B average, and two students with a C average.

Last year, Andover High School's team placed sixth in the Massachusetts state finals. This year's team will take on its first hurdle in the competition—the preliminaries—in Cambridge on Nov. 22.

The team is coached by Ruby Easton with additional assistance given by members of the Andover High School faculty and volunteers from the community.

Exhibit

The Weavers' Guild of Boston will hold its annual exhibit and sale Friday, Nov. 7, from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Saturday, Nov. 8, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Josiah Smith Barn, 358 Boston Post Road, Weston Center. There is no admission charge.

Quality handwoven articles produced by members of the guild will be exhibited and sold. Among the clothing and accessories displayed will be belts, scarves, shawls and jackets. Home furnishings will include table linens, blankets, pillows, rugs and wall hanging. Baskets, holiday ornaments and handspun yarn will also be for in addition to many more items.

A baby partridge is called a cheeper.

Few people to whom music is important will be without a quality audio system.
Unfortunately, such an audio system is in most cases an euphemism for a stack of cumbersome complications; engineering revenge, it seems, against music's soft-edged art.

"Legend of Sleepy Hollow" Featured At Monster Mash Dash

The Department of Community Services Mash Dash will be held at Rec Park October 30 from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. for children ages 2-14. The Monster Mash Dash will have 50-yard dashes in costume, beginning promptly at 6 p.m., divided by age. Participants are requested to bring their decorated Jack-O-Langern or pumpkin for judging. There will also be a costume contest and the reading of the "Legend of Sleepy Hollow."

Storyteller Ron Wakowski has been involved with Andover Community Theatre for 12 years. He has directed, produced, worked on stage and technical crews for numerous productions, including "Mame," "You Can't Take it With You," "Damn Yankees," "Mad Women of Shilo" and several others. Wakowski was nominated for best director at the New England Theater Conference.

Advance registration is required. Forms are available at all elementary and junior high schools as well as the DCS office, Hockey Shop and the Sports Shop. Free t-shirts, sponsored in part by Pepsi-Cola Bottlers of Methuen, will be given to the first 100 entrants. Refreshments will be sold by Andover High School cheerleaders.

Skills

sents a topic about which students must write. The reading tests cover word recognition skills, vocabulary comprehension, critical reading skills and study skills. The mathematics tests cover numbers and numeration, operations, variables and relations, measurement, geometry, problem solving skills and probability and statistics appropriate to each grade level. The writing test will be scored on the basis of how well the student communicates, develops and details ideas and uses complete sentences and appropriate writing conventions.

Allan Hartman, head of the testing program and director of the Bureau of Research and Assessment, noted that the majority of students should perform well on these tests. "The tests will only be difficult for those who have not mastered basic skills. While the tests are not diagnostic, they should clearly identify for schools just what students need further help," he explained.

According to James Case, association commissioner for curriculum and instruction, test results will be used by the department in awarding grants to schools with large numbers of students failing to meet basic skills standards. "We hope the results will also be used by schools to strengthen their curriculum and instruction," he added.

Later in the year the State Board of Education will set statewide standards for the tests. Districts, however, will be allowed to set higher standards for their students. Beginning in 1987, ninth graders who fail one or more of the tests will be required to repeat the test at the next administration and continue to do so annually until they pass.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

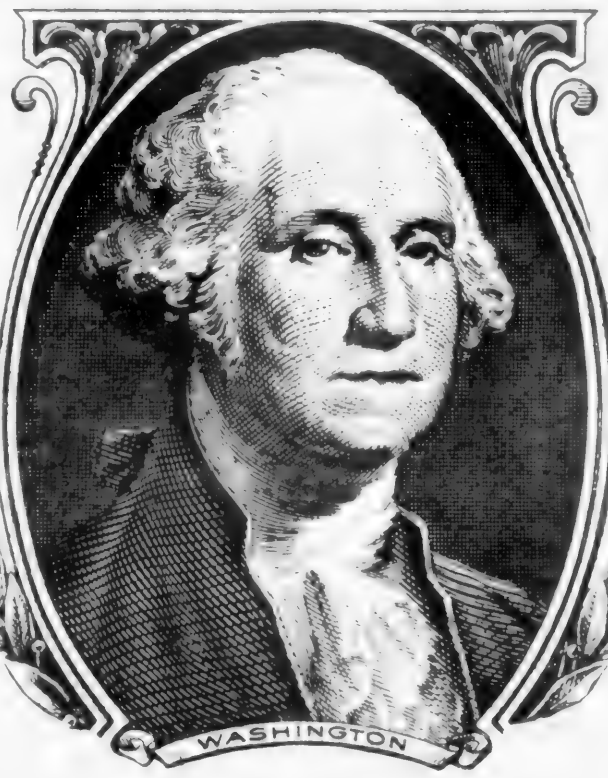

The pregnant woman and her husband may have to relearn that childbirth is a natural procedure; that nature and heredity have equipped the woman's brain to tell her body the right things to do. Your joint decision about the birth method that is best for you will have to be made in the fifth month of pregnancy. You should talk to your obstetrician in advance about labor and delivery and the use of medication during each stage to make certain that your doctor's preferences are the same as yours.

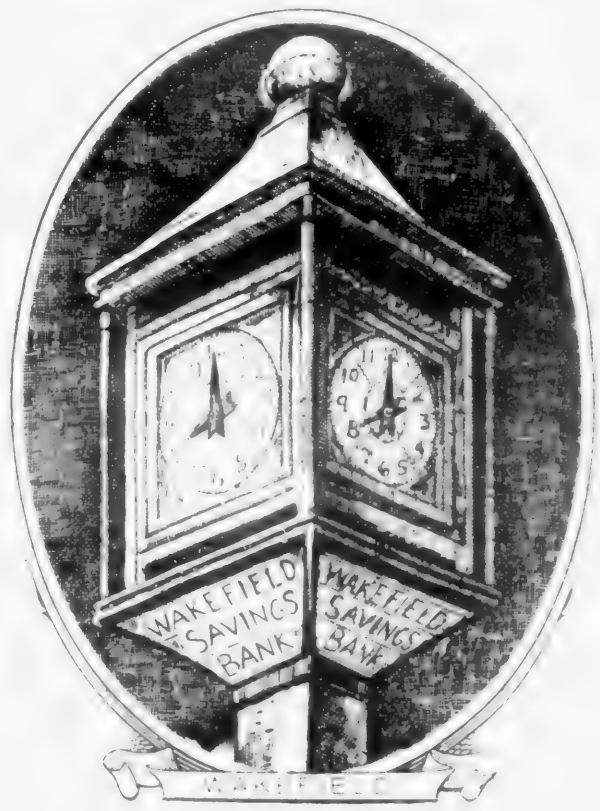

There is a large selection of baby furniture available at TINY TOTLAND. Open 9-5:30. Mon. & Th. 9-9. We deliver anywhere. Toys for all ages... "heaven to seven". M/C & Visa honored. Free lay-a-way is available at TINY TOTLAND, 1111 Elm St., Manchester, N. H. "Where Quality Costs You Less."

Volunteers Needed By Samaritans

The Samaritans of the Merrimack Valley have become so active that it is becoming increasingly difficult to do all that needs to be done. One hundred calls a day on the average are received by the hot line, serving the lonely, despairing and suicidal. The present volunteers, trained to respond to the calls, spend at least five hours a week very competently and have often become involved in tasks for which there is little time.

A new componant of the Samaritans is being formed to take care of details revolving around outreach, fundraising, public relations and mailings.

Called Friends of Smaritans, volunteers will be just that, friends of the Samaritans who want to give some of their time to the organization, but not on the phones or with a weekly commitment.

They will assist in conducting fund-raising events, spreading the word about Samaritans, membership drive and such details as put up posters and address envelopes.

Anybody interested in helping in any capacity is urged to call the Samaritans.

Books are so called from the German buche meaning a beech tree, since beech bark was used for writing on before the invention of printing.

League Planning Fall Brunch

The Andover chapter of the League of Women Voters will be holding its annual Fall Brunch for new members on Saturday, Oct. 25, from 10:30 a.m. to 12 at the home of Therese Reichert, 49 Cheever Circle. All prospective members are invited to attend. The League is open to all registered voters, male or female.

Those who wish reservations for the brunch are directed to call Reichert or her membership co-chair, Julie Stratton, 7 Howell Drive.

"This is an election year, so people naturally think of the League's voter education services, such as candidates' debates," notes Jean Salazar, president of the Andover League. "But joining the League also means learning about our own town. A strong Andover League over decades has helped Andover become a better town. Members' participation can be geared to their available time, either daytime or evenings. Join us, or rejoin if you've been away from the League for a number of years."

The League of Women Voters is a non-partisan political organization. As well as providing such services as voter information, the League each year elects priorities—timely issues for study, discussion, consensus and action on the local, state and national level. High among priorities for the LWV in Andover this year will be studies of school facilities use, services available to abused women in the area, and emergency services available to citizens of the town.

Men and women who join the local League become members of the national and state organization as well, and receive the benefits of publications and lobbying efforts on all levels. The Andover League is known as one of Massachusetts' strongest; many of its members are directly involved with town boards and commissions.

Registry Offices Opening

Representative Sue Tucker reports that 15 area registry offices will be opening for two nights a week within the next six months. According to William T. Hutch, senior deputy registrar, six of the busiest city offices are slated to open after October 1, pending negotiations with the unions. They are Boston, Brockton, Quincy, Woburn. Worcester and Springfield.

Nine additional offices, including two in the northeast, will hold evening hours after the first of the year: Lawrence, Fall River, Pittsfield, Framingham, North Attleboro, Beverly, Fitchburg, Watertown and Hyannis.

"I'm pleased that my work with the Legislature and the state budget has accomplished this improvement," stated Tucker. "It has been a real hardship for working people to do their registry business during the regular nine-to-five day. This change should save employers and employees both time and money, not to mention aggravation."

It's believed the word brat, meaning child, comes from the Welsh brethmeaning baby clothes.

Weight Loss Program Offered

The holidays are around the corner and you are determined to lose weight, but can't seem to find a diet plan that works for you. Don't give up. Call the nutrition center at Bon Secours Hospital in Methuen. Beginning Tuesday, Oct. 28, Bon Secours will introduce an eight-week weight loss and nutrition group program conducted by registered dietitians from the nutrition center staff. It is open to the public and will offer day and evening groups.

"Our program is both for people who want to lose a lot of weight and for those who only feel they want to shed five pounds," explains Sandra Korotkin, R.D., chief dietitian. "It will be a wholistic approach to weight management as opposed to just weight loss."

While the program will focus on nutrition and weight control in general, participants will be able to work on specific problems and goals. Members will learn strategies for eating during the holday season, how to diet while eating out and ways to save calories by making quick and simple changes in recipes.

The war on drugs has begun. And we have a weapon.

Drug Abuse.
No town is safe from it. No family.

And to halt this insidious threat, there is one thing we must do first. Reach our children. To educate them about the perils of drugs, and to expose drugs for the poison they are.

Well, there is something that can help bring about this goal. A Bank of Boston MasterCard* or Visa.* For the next three months,* every time you use your card, we will make a donation to the Governor's Alliance Against Drugs. This money will be used to provide drug education materials for students and teachers. What's more, we will waive our annual $21 credit card fee for all new cardholders during this period. And the equivalent amount for the first 5,000 new accounts opened. The donated to this worthy cause. Programs is another part commitment to help "Stand Tall Against Drugs."

Transit Authority Gets State Grant

State Transportation Secretary Frederick P. Salvucci announced that the Merrimack Valley Regional Transit Authority (MVRTA) has been awarded $980,000 in state aid to fund services which benefited 1.2 million riders in 14 communities in the past year.

"The services provided by the Merrimack Valley Regional Transit Authority and other transit authorities statewide are an integral part of the kind of transportation system we need to meet Governor Dukakis' commitment to create new opportunities for all our citizens," he said. "The Merrimack Valley Regional Transit Authority does an excellent job of providing these transportation services and we're pleased to provide this funding support."

This year, $14 million in state aid will be distributed to the state's 14 regional transit authorities, a $1.1 million increase over FY86 levels.

Salvucci explained that the steady state funding increases over the past several years have allowed the RTA's to serve new communities and industrial areas, provide new downtown trolleys and shuttles and expand specialized services for the elderly and handicapped.

Part of this year's funding is earmarked to expand specialized transportation during commuting hours to give handicapped and elderly citizens better access to jobs.

The secretary also said that a new $4 million capital grant program is available to the RTA's this year for the first time. The funding was included in the 1985 State Transportation Bond Issue.

"As regional transit authorities are faced with the challenge of providing more and better services, first class fleets and capital facilities are a necessity," Salvucci said. "With this new grant program, we'll help the RTA's purchase new buses, upgrade fleet maintenance facilities and complete other projects which are often beyond the means of scarce local resources."

The state's 14 regional transit authorities serve 35 million riders in more than 180 communities. The MVRTA serves residents of Amesbury, Andover Boxford, Georgetown, Groveland, Haverhil, Lawrence, Methuen, Merrimack, Newbury, Newburyport, North Andover Rowley and West Newbury.

Canoe Trip

The public is invited to join the Ipswich River Watershed Association for a canoe trip/river cleanup on Sunday, Oct. 19. New Brooks School Organ

New Organ To Be Dedicated

There will be a dedication concert for the new Antiphonal Organ, which has been added to the historical Aeolian-Skinner organ in the Ashburn Chapel of Brooks School, on Sunday, Oct. 19, at 4:30 p.m. Earl Miller, school organist, will be the featured recitalist in this 40-minute concert.

The Antiphonal Organ, located high up on the rear wall of the building, was an addition that the organ's designer, Edward Flint, had long hoped for. Flint was the school's first chapel organist and was a leader in organ design. As the school grew, there was a need for an additonal division of organ pipes to help lead the hymn singing in the chapel services. Two years ago a generous, anonymous gift from one of Flint's former organ students was presented to the school specifically to design such an addition.

Miller's concert will demonstrate the new addition with music that makes good use of antiphonal writing, music which will show off the two organs as separate entities and a cohesive whole. His program will include "Echo in 6 Major" by Gheradus Scronx, "Balletto del Granduca" by Jan Pieterszoon Sweelinck, Five Choral Preludes by Otto Dienel, "Prelude and Fugue in C Minor" by J.S. Bach, "Rondo for a Flute Stop" by Johann Christian Rinck, "Sea Prelude No. 1" by Robin Milford and V.A Petrili's "Offertorio."

A reception for the organ builder will be held after the concert followed by the sung service of Evenson by the chapel's choir, Miller directing.

The concert is free. Brooks School is located on Route 133 between North Andover and Boxford. The chapel is in the center of the campus.

Faculty Chamber Music Concert

The music faculty of Phillips Academy will present a chamber music concert on Friday, Oct. 17, at 8 p.m. in Fraves Hall.

The concert will feature chamber music which includes the use of the string bass. A great many chamber works include the bass as part of the orchestra. Some have become part of the standard repertoire, but others are works by composers whose music did not become part of the main body of the classical repertoire. The works on this program include both. Rossini and Saint-Saens are well known to concert-goers, but Hermann Goetz is a relatively unknown composer. Born in Konigsberg, Prussia, in 1840, Goetz spent much of his life in Switzerland. His most famous work is the opera "The Taming of the Shrew," based on Shakespeare's play, first given in Mannheim on October 11, 1874. In addition to operatic and symphonic works, Goetz wrote several pieces for piano and voice as well as chamber music.

Thomas Coleman, who plays violone and double bass with many Boston-area orchestras, including the Boston Symphony Orchestra and Banchetto Musicali, will be the featured bassist. He came to Boston from Amsterdam where he played in the Concertgebouworkest. Coleman spent time in Munich where he worked in the Bavarian Ton Studio for recordings, television and films. He also performed with the Munich Chamber Opera, Bavarian Radio Orchestra and National Ballet and the Munich Bach Orchestra. He has made many recordings on well-known labels.

Other members of the Chamber Orchestra are Gerald Itzkoff, violin; Mimi Bravar, violin and violla; Katherine Fiene, viola; William Thomas, cello; Christopher Walter, piano, and Vincent Monaco, trumpet.

Soprano In Recital At Academy

The music department of Phillips Academy will present Beda Polanco, soprano, in a recital on Sunday, Oct. 19, at 3 p.m. in Graves Hall. She will be accompanied by Christopher Walter on piano.

Polanco has been a teacher at the academy since 1972. She performs regularly with the Boston Opera Company and has performed as soloist in several operas, including "Der Freischutz," "La Boheme" and "Tosca." In the past few years Polanco has participated in Cantata Choir performances and tours in and outside of the United States.

Walter is also on the faculty at Phillips Academy. He regularly performs in chamber ensembles and is co-director of the academy chorus.

Sunday's program includes pieces by Torroba, Faure, Gounod, Grechmaninof, Brahms, Verdi, Puccini, Mozart and Montsalvage.

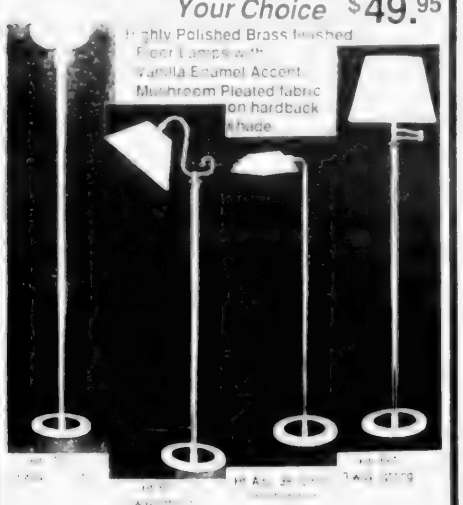

The public is invited. There is no admission charge.

Festival Of Sukkot To Be Observed At Andover Temple

The Festival of Sukkot will be observed at Temple Emanuel, Haggets Pond Road, Andover, beginning Saturday, Oct. 18, and concluding Saturday, Oct. 25. Since all Jewish festivals and Holy Days begin on the preceding evening, services will be held on Friday, Oct. 17, at 8:15 p.m. and Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

The longest, happiest and most colorful of Jewish festivals is Sukkot and symbolizing the very essence of Judaism is the Sukkah. In contrast to the massive, decayed monuments of past civilizations, Jews have a fragile booth of leaves and lattic work. Yet it serves as the living symbol of perserverance, a dwelling eagerly built each year by an indestructible people to celebrate their joy in the goodness of life.

No wonder devout Jews return to their own yards and drive in the first stake of their Sukkot even before breaking the day-long fast of Yom Kippur. Not only is this observing an old custom of preparing for the next religious holiday almost before the previous one is finished, but is the knowledgeable Jew's anticipation in the full significance and pleasure of Sukkot.

As a people, Jews were once a band of miserable slaves living in a frail hut in the desert, but they did not despair. So it is today. It takes courage to break bread and praise God in a bare, crudely built hut, often in the cold, wet of autumn, far from sunbright Jerusalem. In exposing themselves to some of the hardships their ancestors experienced in the wilderness, Jews are able to feel more keenly their unsheltered existance and the unsheltered existance of all the less fortunate who exist on earth today.

The Sukkah will be decorated by members of the Temple youth group and children of the religious school.

The first and last day of the festival coincides with the Sabbath day this year and, therefore, the evening services on the 17th and 24th will be a combination of Sabbath and festival services.

On Friday, Oct. 24, the evening of the concluding day of Shemin Atzeret and Simchat Torah, the traditional fun-filled ceremony of Hakafot will be observed. The children of the religious school will be consecrated to their Jewish studies at this service. Children entering the third grade will begin their first year of study of Hebrew and will be taught special songs which they will present as part of the Torah Service which celebrates the reading of the last chapter of the book of Deut. and then the immediate return to the reading of the beginning of the first chapter of Genesis.

On Saturday, Oct. 18 and 25, chapel service will be at 9 a.m. and family services in the sanctuary begin at 10:30 a.m.

The following children will be consecrated at the service on Friday, Oct. 24: Elizabeth Adler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Adler; Lee Baron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Baron; Aaron Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Cooper; Jonathan Devan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Devan; Michelle Federico, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Federico; Marissa Goldman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Goldman; Lauren Hacker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Hacker; Sharon Haviv, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Tirza Haviv; Jeffrey Isenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Isenberg; Emily Kaplan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Kaplan; Melanie Katz, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ellis Katz; Amy Kaufman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kaufman; Orrie King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey King; Reuben Krauson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Krauson, Keith Lampert, son of Mr and Mrs. Dana Lampert; Jay Levine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Levine; Josua Mollov, son of Dr. and Mrs. Steven Mollov; David Nazzaro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nazzaro; Rebecca Payne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Payne; Debbie Sabath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerrold Sabath; Adam Shapiro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Shaprio; Andrew Small, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Small; Kimberly Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Smith; Randi Spiegel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spiegel; Michael Stein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stein; Mira Tamarkin, daughter of Mrs. Susan Solomon and Kenneth Tamarkin; Michael Trachtenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Trachtenberg; Jonathan Tunick, son of Mr and Mrs. Barry Tunick; Jason Werner, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Werner.

The Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover invites you to view a 30-min. video tape "Why Bother to go to Church?" Tuesday, Oct. 21st 6 Locke St., 8 p.m.

Many people have discovered that they share our religious beliefs and would like a fuller understanding of Unitarian-Universalism. We offer a unique liberal religion for those who seek their own answers. . .who seek life's meaning through reason, intuition, science and experiences.

Our denomination claims a long list of eminent Americans, including literary figures like Ralph Emerson, the Longfellows, Henry David Thoreau, and Emily Dickinson; five presidents, including Thomas Jefferson and both Adamses; and social and political reformers such as Susan B. Anthony, Clara Barton, Dorothea Dix and Horace Mann. More recent Unitarian-Universalists have included Adlai Stevenson, Albert Schweitzer, Frank Lloyd Wright and Henry Steele Commager

When you enter our church, you are likely to find people much like yourself People who share the questions, values and concerns you may be struggling with alone. People who wish to become part of a caring community . . .who desire a carefully constructed religious education program for their children. We hope you will join us. There is no charge for this program. Open discussion will follow

River Road Homeowners Face Problem In Selling Property

By Susan K. O'Neill

Lionel and Eileen Sirois have been trying to sell their home for three years. During those years, the Andover real estate market has hit levels at which it was not unusual to see houses vanish from the listings overnight, sold before the realtor could pound his sign into the front yard.

Still, the Sirois home sits unsold. Bull or bear market; it seems to matter little because the house, while ordinary enough in looks and size, is a freak of sorts. Located at 172 River Road, it is one of a few private residences left in a growing high-tech industrial (ID) zone. To each side sit other private homes; behind it is a tract of land owned by an industry that apparently doesn't want or need the Sirois parcel.

Potential corporate buyers ignore the house because it sits on a small, non-crucial piece of land. Potential private owners spurn it because the prospect of raising a family on busy River Road, in the heart of West Andover's industrial zone, is less than ideal.

Recently, the Sirois' have glimpsed a light at the end of their tunnel of waiting; two area businessmen have proposed to buy the house and to re-fit it as a real estate development office. However, there is a catch—to make such a conversion, James Freeman and Joseph Harrington must go before the Zoning Board of Appeals to seek parking and setback variances.

On Tuesday night, Freeman and Harrington brought their plans before the Planning Board for a non-binding site plan review, requested by the planning staff to elicit board comment for the information of the ZBA. Although the night's recommendations were only advisory and will not decide the ZBA's actions, they still proved discouraging for the would-be buyers and the Sirois family.

As presented by Freeman, the proposed change from home to business would leave the exterior of the house unchanged. Because the building's potential 1400 square feet of office space would require five parking spaces, however, an existing driveway would have to be expanded to allow four diagonal parking slots in addition to a single space at the house-end of the lane.

Freeman explained that he planned to locate parking in the existing driveway area to bypass wetlands on the lot and to avoid encroaching on a near neighbor's back yard privacy. To do this, he said, he and Harrington would need a varience from the ZBA for side-yard parking. They would also need a special permit allowing them to park within 50 feet of the center line of the street.

Planner Laura Hill said that the planning staff was "not pleased" with the distance at which the proposed business would sit from its residential neighbors. Furthermore, she said, the staff could not recommend a waiver of the setback requirements, to allow parking that

A Special Farm Nestled Among Industrial Giants

By Karen L. Day

Ironstone Farm, which sits in the midst of Digital, Wang Laboratories, Raytheon and the I.R.S. on Lowell St. in West Andover, is one of the few operating farms left in the area. The 16-acre farm is much more than what it may appear at first glance. It's not just any riding school...Ironstone is rare in that many of the students here are handicapped.

Twenty-five years ago, Dick Donovan and his wife, Katie, established Ironstone Farm in order to breed, raise and train thoroughbred horses. At that time, Andover was far more rural a community than it is today. Donovan began clearing land and building.

The farm began taking horses in from the track for rehabilitation, and later, from institutions the likes of Cornell University, Tufts University and the University of Pennsylvania. All the while, thoroughbreds were still being raised.

Donovan had "no intention to get into it really," but, neighborhood children, as usual, were drawn to the horses and wanted to learn to ride them. At this time, Donovan decided not only to begin a small riding program for the children, but to teach them basic horsemanship as well.

Groups began to call to arrange field trips. In 1973, beginning with an outing for the Lowell Recreation Department Special Needs group, the farm became involved with riding for the handicapped.

When that first group came to Ironstone for some pony rides, Donovan recognized the need for handicapped programs. "It really opened our eyes," he says now, "We had a wonderful time ourselves."

As the number of handicapped groups grew, ranging from the Perkins Scool for the Blind to the Greater Lowell Association for Retarded Citizens, Donovan became increasingly aware of the need for a formal program.

In 1982, the "Challenge Unlimited" program came into full existance. Under the direction of Deedee O'Brien, the program's coordinator, the main thrust is to teach therapeutic riding for handicapped individuals. Although it is not a universally recognized form of therapy, physical therapists often refer patients to the program and help develop a suitable course.

A non-profit organization, Donovan encourages individuals and organizations to sponsor handicapped children and adults who can't themselves afford the program, and many of the sponsors and volunteers for the program are able-bodied students on the farm.

All this, according to Donovan "creates an atmosphere not often found today" where the educational aspect of the farm is maintained by students who work there in order to earn their own lessons.

The current working student program consists of 14 teenaged girls who help with cleaning and feeding the horses as well as helping with lessons every day in turn for riding time of their own and the education they get in the care and management of animals.

The farm's first working student pro-

Clowning Around at West

Last week, mime/clown Michael Lane Trautman visited West Elementary to present what was, to at least one small spectator, a most uplifting experience in entertainment. Pictures, clockwise from upper left: (1) Blake McCauley grins as (2) Trautman balances his hat and cane on his chin; (3) Oh, gross! says the front-row gang, watching (4) Trautman's bubble-gum routine; (5) Stephanie Ciampa; (6) Marc D'Agostino holds tight as Trautman balances him on his chin, then (7) lets go; (8) Hey—it was nothing; (9) The peanut gallery.

Inadequate Response

In today's Public Forum section of the TOWNSMAN, Selectman William Dalton responds to our critique of a week ago whereby we questioned the need for an increased tax rate.

Mr. Dalton, who is the board's designated letter-writer, convicts the TOWNSMAN of selectmen-bashing, points out that police and fire personnel were added this past year, insurance costs doubled and a lot of money was spent on school repairs.

He asks do we think it wrong to spend so much on school repairs.

It should be recalled by he and others that the newspaper has consistently criticized the administration and town meeting for putting off building repairs as being a false economical move, thus we would find that expenditure this past year a proper move.

Frankly, there is little or no quarrel about any of the expenditures, or even his citing the real dollar value of the tax increase as compared to the national inflation rate, whatever that means. A tax increase is an added cost to local taxpayers whatever the national inflation rate, or even the national debt might be.

No, per usual, Mr. Dalton misses the point altogether.

We don't question added costs, increased services or effective maintenance of municipal properties.

What remains in question, and apparently for perpetuity, is what is happening to all the newfound wealth which is pouring into the town coffers annually.

It is anticipated that there will be an increase of $72,000,000 plus in new valuation in the new fiscal year, which certainly should contribute heavily toward underwriting additional police and fire personnel.

Having taken the water department off the tax roles through increased water rates to make that department self-sustaining, the additional revenue from valuation certainly should assist in helping to pay for the repairs to school buildings.

Mr. Dalton conveniently throws out statistics to get in the way of facts, such as the increased valuation, additional revenues from user and permits fees, etc.

Much of the additional revenue will probably find its way into an enormous free cash account which will be paraded before the annual town meeting as effective management, when, in fact, it has been taken from the taxpayers early, rather than giving them a little break now and then.

It would be nice if selectmen and other administrators began working toward holding the line in the year ahead and effectively manage the town in an economic manner.

That way, when selectmen return from their summer sojourn next year, they won't have to wrestle with the sticky problem of raising taxes.

Or, is that too much to anticipate.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — October 1911

The Andover Club held its annual meeting in the club rooms on Wednesday evening with large attendance. Owing to the absence of the president, Harry M. Eames, vice-president Henry A. Bodwell occupied the chair.

The revulsion in the feeling of the people toward great industrial enterprises is becoming quite noticable. There is still left a strong sentiment against the big corporation and the so-called trust.

Impersonations of the ladies of the Seminary and Academy faculties of a century ago, and of some of the early missionaries will be a feature of the missionary rally to be held in the Archaeology building next Tuesday afternoon.

The celebration of the Old South Church marks an unusual occasion. Few institutions have worked out careers that cover a full century, and fewer have reached the two-century mark.

The frequent cases of thieving which have been reported during the past few months at Foster's Pond, received what may be a slight check last Sunday, when Chief Mears and Special Officer Leonard Saunders arrested a man and woman, who had been stealing cabbages.

50 Years Ago — October 1936

Randall T. Cox, assistant district attorney of Essex county, will speak on "Grand Jury" at the meeting of the Service club Thursday evening. Dinner will be served as usual at the Square and Compass club at 6:15.

The school board will meet in special session on Tuesday evening to act on several matters, the most important being the election of a new teacher for the junior high to relieve congestion.

Andover's part in the coming state election reaches a climax in the next two weeks, with the entire Democratic state ticket scheduled to speak at the town hall in a rally at eight tonight and the entire Republican state ticket due to hold a rally in the town hall on Oct. 27 at 8 p.m.

The TOWNSMAN was the third Andover weekly. It followed "The Journal of Humanity and Herald of the American Temperance Society," published between 1829 and 1833, and the "Andover Advertiser," which was published between 1853 and 1866. The TOWNSMAN came into existance in 1887.

25 Years Ago — October 1961

Interested town officials are currently studying a report from Evans Associates, listing data on the job of recreational director, on several single-rate positions and on posts within the Library. The firm, which originally drew the personnel and wage classification proposal for the town, has been working on the newest report for some time.

The Board of Appeals has given Joseph W. Hoffman permission to park his plumbing truck in his garage on Marilyn Road. The board specified that the truck must be kept in the garage, and "not at any time to be parked outside."

The continuing hold-up on Rogers Brook is threatening a Main St. commercial project which could net the town over $10,000 in real estate taxes annually.

The Andover League of Women Voters will conduct a one-day fund drive. League members will ask Andover citizens for financial support. All contributions will be used to assist the League in conducting its many pro-

Middle Age Considered Overrated

By Susan K. O'Neill

So now, at last, I stand at that classic threshold of middle age. I have turned 39.

Big deal.

I am as old, now, as Jack Benny.

Who's Jack Benny?

You're kidding, aren't you?

Oh. Well. He was this comedian who always said he was 39, right? Played the violin—had this sidekick, Rochester—

Never mind.

Middle age is overrated. I am not over the hill; I might be at the crest, but I'm hardly on the down side. Actually, when I think about it, I'm as good now as I was 10—or even 15—years ago. That's right. In both body and mind. There's virtually nothing I could do then that I can't do now. In fact, I can do it better.

Take running, for instance. Why, 10 years ago, I didn't even run. Now I can do three miles in a stretch. In 30 minutes.

Well, okay—35.

With a tailwind.

That? On my ankle? Nah, it's not—well, you might call it an ace bandage, I suppose. But I don't think of it as an ace bandage. I think of it as a kind of—talisman. My good-luck ace; it helps me run.

As I said, 39 be hanged—I'm better now than I was then. I can bench press—let's see—sixty pounds, flat on my back, when my shoulder's not kicking up.

I can leg press a lot more, but I'm letting my knee rest. Temporarily.

Which reminds me. Could you give me a hand with this aspirin bottle? I have trouble getting those child-proof caps off, what with my tennis elbow.

Tennis—now that's another one. I didn't play tennis 10 years ago. I'll bet I can play it next year, too, if I wear that little brace. And then, I'll be 40.

And hey—I can still wear the same clothes I wore 12 years back. How many people can say that?

No, I don't have them anymore, but I know they'd fit. They went out of fashion, you see. I gave them away.

Yes, Kramer's eleven and a half. Is that supposed to mean something?

Very funny. Ha, ha.

Physically, I say, I still have everything I had back then.

Okay, so maybe it's not exactly where it was before. I have it, though.

I'm a lot wiser now, too, with age. I am in control of my life. Back 15 years ago, I was just a nurse. I just assisted brain surgeons from the Lahey Clinic in their operations.

Now I go to Planning Board meetings. Then I sit at a computer and write about what I saw there.

How many people make that kind of progress in 15 years?

My mind, you see, has grown sharper with age. At 39, I'm literally as sharp as—

I'm as sharp...

I'm as sharp as a knife.

Yes, sir, I love being 39.

I might just stay at this age. Just like Jack—

Never mind.

The Public Forum

Program Applauded

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN;

The Special Needs Program in Andover has become a focal point for debate by the school committee as a result of the election of Mrs. French to a tenured positoon. As a voter I rely upon the expertise of Dr. Seifert and the school committee on matters of salary and fiscal responsibility. Other issues were also discussed that did not pertain to this appointment. The issue of tenure in general is one that cannot be resolved by the school committee since it requires legislative action.

Using the election of Mrs. French as a forum on special needs was inappropriate. Consideration has to be given regarding recent revisions adopted for Chapter 766 programs. Had Mr. Birnbach wished to make changes within the system he should have done so through the legislative process that was taking place.

Funding, however, is probably the biggest problem faced by municipalities in providing special needs education. The federal government only provides about 7 to 8 percent of the funds necessary to maintain special needs programs at a current level. The changes required for special needs and remedial education will only happen when the federal government is ready to assume responsibility for providing equal access to quality education. The time has come for the federal government to assume responsibility for a national education program that is capable of addressing those problems that have allowed 40 million Americans to remain functionally illiterate. The fact remains that things are not that bad in Andover because we have the desire and economic ability to provide quality education for our children.

The two most significant contributions of the Andover Special Needs Program are that it provides a student with an opportunity for personal growth and it gives a student the ability to develop those skills necessary to become a successful student. If we observe those students who have been mainstreamed, then a picture emerges of a program that is successful.

After reading the Andover TOWNSMAN article regarding the recent discussions of the Special Needs Program, I telephoned several parents of children who are past or current participants in the program. All were unanimous in their praise of the program. When a student completed 5½ years of education in 3½ years through the efforts of the special needs staff, I applaud that effort.

Finally, I welcome a review of the Special Needs/Learning Disabilities program because there is always need for improvement in a model program. If Andover's program is to achieve positive results, as myself and other parents feel it already has, continued support is necessary to guarantee success.

Explanation

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

In response to your editorial criticizing the selectmen for the 3 percent increase in taxes, allow me to make a few points.

1. The national inflation rate was about 2 percent which mans that our real dollar increase was minimal.
2. This year we added five policemen and four firemen. We felt that this increase in cost for public safety was warranted. Do you disagree?
3. Our insurance liability costs doubled. We have no control over that.
4. Our cost of solid waste disposal increased by 50 percent. We have no control over that.
5. We almost doubled ($415,000 to $750,000) the amount of money spent on school repairs. Do you feel that this was wrong?

While I hate to diminish the fun you are having bashing selectmen, allow me to also mention that the selectmen oversee substantially less than 50 percent of the budget. The school committee controls the rest. And, ultimately, the town meeting has the final say on all of it.

Don't Have Free Run

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I am a student at Andover High School. I have a few things I want to say about the self government at the high school. Contrary to what many people believe, we do not have free run of the school. Our principal, Mrs. Jennings, may veto any motion the house passes.

In regards to the smoking area: I don't smoke and most of the students don't smoke either. In actuality, the smoking area is used by a relatively small number of students. While these students smoke in the designated area, the rest of us reap the benefits. We are able to enjoy smoke-free bathrooms and toilet stalls that aren't filled with cigarette butts. Writing this description on paper doesn't do justice to the before and after effects of the smoking area.

The self government was not established just because of the smoking problem. There are a number of issues being addressed at the house meetings. The statement that we may next attempt to get a drug room and a bar room is absurd. Get real! The house meetings are held on alternate Thursdays from 10:50 a.m. to 11:25 a.m. Anyone interested may attend.

Postmaster Says Thanks

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

On Saturday, Sept. 20, the Andover Post Office held its annual Open House. At that time there were three raffles that anyone could participate in; Postmaster for a day, a Commerative Golden Moments Set and a clock radio.

At this time we would like to announce the winners in the three raffles. Mr. Kris Kelmer of 4 Parthenon Circle, Andover, age 12, won the Postmaster for a day. Mr. Marck Gabryjelski, also age 12, of 107 Pitman St., in Methuen, won the radio. Ms. Christen Buckner of 3 McDonald Circle in Andover, won the Commerative Golden Moments Set.

We would like to congratulate all of these children and thank everyone who attended and participated in our Open House.

Appreciative

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Now that our dream finally has come true and the Phillips Brooks Wing of the Academy Manor is finally opened, it is only appropriate to publicly thank the many people who assisted us through our project. Without the assistance of governmental agencies, both state and local, our project could not have seen its fruition.

The assistance given to us in our planning stages by the people of the Andover communities was gratifying as it made our job much easier.

I would be remiss if I did not thank the entire staff at the nursing home who beared with us during some very difficult times while construction was in progress.

Lastly, I could never express in words my heartfelt thanks to the residents and their families without whose patience, understanding and good humor would we have been able to complete our project.

A's Have Busy Weekend

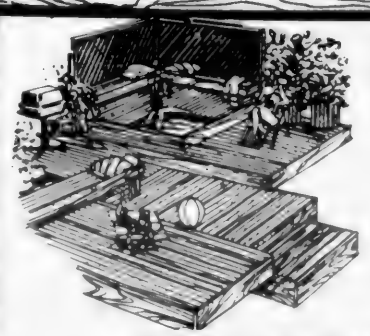

The Andover PeeWee A hockey team was upended by Wakefield last Friday night in an exciting and penalty-riddled game at Merrimack College.

Wakefield broke on top 2-0 in period one before Andover scored its first goal as Todd Allard tipped in a slap shot by Bob Sheehan. Andover tied the game in the second period as Pete O'Shea fired thepuck past the goalie's stick side. Assists went to Todd Allard and Billy Owens who made a sensational drop pass to O'Shea breaking in alone on left wing. Wakefield scored their third goal just before the end of the period on one of their many power plays. Period three was scoreless, but Andover stormed the Wakefield goal in the last three minutues. They pulled goalie Mike Daley with one minute to play, but came up on the short end of a 3-2 decision.

Andover prevaled 5-2 Saturday against Medford as excellent passing set up numerous scoring chances. Although Medford scored off the opening face off, Brenden Finneran tied it in the first period with a strong wrist shot from the blue line on a delayed Medford penalty. Medford went ahead 2-1 in the second period while enjoying a two-man advantage. Goalie Daley kept Andover in the game with a great glove save of a shot from the slot. The third period belonged to Andover with goals by Billy Owens, Joe Liguori, Chris Pothier and Sean Darwin leading the 5-2 victory.

Andover overpowered Newburyport 7-3 Monday at Merrimack College to improve their overall record to 6-2 in wilmington League play. Jay Coburn gave Andover a 1-0

Andover Boys Soccer Stays On Winning Trail

By Mike Brink

After a hard-fought game the night before gainst Chelmsford, Andover had a psychological and emotional let down so they had a hard time keeping their intensity level up for the Wilmington game. They played just well enough to win 1-0 with the score coming in the final part of the game. Andover tried to put offensive prssure on Wilmington to get the early advantage, but were not able to break the defense down. Andover was able to control the ball in midfield, but could not find the right combination to finish off the atack. Andover took 11 shots on net during the first half, but the Wilmington goalie turned each away. The play remained in the Wilmington half of the field in the second half, but Andover still had trouble finding the right combination for a score. Finally, sophomore Matt Pothier out hustled his man and got to a ball which he passed To Tom Ciolfi who wasted no time in blasting it past the diving goalie for the winning score. On three different occasions Wilmington had breakaways which looked as though they would be able to score, but each time goalie Brian Cronin made a spectacular save.

Andover went to Dracut looking for a win and the game was never in question. The final score was 6-0. The first score came from the high scoring duo of Mike Hardock, who scored his first of two goals, and Chris Sappupo, who got his first of three assists. Mark Neaves scored the second goal, unassisted, when he got the ball and kept the ball away from anyone who tried to stop him with keen ball handling. Shortly after, Pothier assisted on the third goal and got the ball to Sappupo who drove it home. Ciolfi got the fourth goal and an assist to Sappupo. The second half saw the scoring continue with John Lecomte assisting with a nice centering pass to Hardock. The final score came when Sappupo passed the ball to junior David Schwind.

Andover met an improved Methuen team in the third game of the week. Both teams were very aggressive and play was very physical. For the first time this season Andover began to use the wide field and kept the ball to the outside and did not pass it up the middle. This spread the defense and allowed the score. Jim Saalfrank started the scoring play and got the ball into the middle where Hardock passed the ball to a waiting Lecomte who shot the ball past the goalie. Both teams tried to take charge the rest of the half, but neither team could score. Andover kept the pressure on in the second half with good team play and passing. As the ball came up the wing Steve Napolitano continued the play with a pass to Hardock who scored. The rest of the game was played up and down the field. Andover turned away each attack. With this victory Andover's record is 8 wins, 3 losses and 1 tie; however, in league competition their record is 7-1-1.

Andover High Field Hockey

By Karen Mitchell

The Andover High School varsity feld hockey team has pulled out of their rut by playing intensively this past week.

The Warriors traveled to Haverhill to hand the Hillies a 4-1 loss. The front line of Karen Mitchell, Lisa Fossella, Amy Mencis and Jeanine Meckel played hard and strong offensively and had 12 shots on goal in the first half. Fossella scored on a pass from Mencis, then one by Mencis from Fossella, as both girls play well together. Christine Colangeli, Katie Walsh and Christine Recesso held the midfield together very effectively. Mitchell took five short corners in the first half alone.

The second half was played at an even quicker pace, but the Andover offense outplayed the Haverhill defense. Meckel found herself at the right place a the right time at the corner post and slapped one in to make it 3-0. Mencis added another, on a pass from Mitchell, before Haverhill socred a lone goal. The second half consisted of 14 shots on goal by Andover and only seven by Haverhill. The Warriors outplayed Haverhill. Excellent midfield work and defense was shown by Tracy Lee, Nancy Lee, Julie Enos, Beth Ristuccia and Amy Baun.

The Warriors traveled home to meet a top-ranked team, Chelmsford. The Lions have beaten the Warriors 4-0 at their first night game ever at Chelmsford. This time the Warriors came out strong, yet the Lions scored with one of 15 shots on net in the first half (Andover only had five). Trailing into the second half, Meckel edged one in to tie the contest. With ten minutes to play, the Lions banged one in after a confusing scramble in front of the goal and goalie Lee Dziadosz. She managed to save 11 shots in the second half alone to help the Warriors defensively. Then, with only two minutes to play, the forward line, on a rush with the ball, found Mitchell open to fire one in for the tie.

The Andover girls met the Methuen Rangers at home on Thursday. The Warriors played a scoreless game in the first half and had excellent passing. They earned 11 short corners and had five shots on net, but could not pass the ball past the Ranger goalie. Methuen, however, had only seven corners and three shots on goal. Dziadosz had the ball in front of her at all times with the help of Baun, Enos and Lee. The defense worked intensely to constantly feed the ball to the forward line, yet the offense could not seem to score.

The second half was the same and the Warriors ran around the Rangers with their perfect one-touch passes. Andover had six corners and ten shots on goal; Methuen only had five corners and eight shots. But, one of those shots got past the goalie with only six minutes remaining, and the Warriors' record dropped to 4-7-1.

On The Soccer Fields

By She Livermore

Some of Andover's travelling teams competed in the North Andover soccer tournament last weekend, while others enjoyed a sojourn from soccer. Teams in the In-Town Program played their normal schedule. Brief results appeal below, together with results of two teams who were defeated early in the tournament.

Under 14 Division

Andover Lightning 0 - Lowell 1

Andover Lightning 0

North Andover 1

The Ligtning played an older contingent from Lowell in their first match in North Andover. The game was scoreless until midway through the first half when a Lowell forward beat the keeper following a scramble in front of the Andover net. The Lightning made many attempts to score the equalizer throughout the rest of the scrappy contest, but were thwarted by excellent defensive tactics and had to settle for a 1-0 loss. BOW: Tim Maracle, Chris Zappala, Mark Baker and Kevin Foltz.

In the second match, Lightning played a team from North Andover on their home field. Following the pattern of the Lowell game, the competition won the contest with a single tally in the first half. They made many attempts to increase their score, but were denied by goalkeeper Andy Novelline who kept his team in the game by making some spectacular saves. BOW: Matt Reghitto, Rejji Hayes, Wayne Mattola and Novelline.

Andover Terminators 0

Danbury Blizzards 5

Andover Terminators 2

Winchester Dynamos 7

The Terminators were matched with a strong contingent from Danbury in the first round who pressed that attack throughout. Good defense held them to one tally in the first half, however, their aggressive tactics were rewarded in the second half as they booted in four goals for a 5-0 victory. BOW: The entire team for a great effort.

After a brief rest, the Terminators found themselves playing the Dynamos from Winchester. John Christoher Martin started the scoring when he received an excellent pass from Scott Henry and blasted it into the net. Winchester responded twice. Henry kicked in the equalizer with Martin earning the assist. The competition made it 4-2 at the midway point. Winchester came out fighting in the second half and ultimately kicked in three goals for a 7-2 victory. BOW: Mark Baker, Gus Quattlebaum, Shawn Hadley and Chris Zappala.

JACKSON LUMBER

A giant lock and key officially opened the new luxurious 60-room wing at the Koala Inn, Andover. Wielding the key to open the lock is Robert S. Agnello (left) president of Koala Inns of America. Assisting with the lock are Gene DeMarco, manager of the Andover Koala Inn; Myriam Curran, senior vice president of Koala; and Barnaby Ruhe, national boomerang champion, who demonstrated his techniques in boomerang throwing before the official ceremonies began. Major new amenities and an executive conference center for meetings have been included in the new wing.

Koala Inn Wing Unlocked

A giant lock was opened to mark the official grand opening of the new 60-room wing of the Andover Koala Inn this week with several hundred guests attending the reception.

Participating in the "unlocking" ceremony were Robert Agnello, president of Koala Inns of America; Kenneth R. Mahoney, Andover Town Manager; Myriam Curran, senior vice president of Koala; and Gene DeMarco, Andover Koala Inn manager.

Barney Ruhe, internationally-famous boomerang thrower, who recently captured the American boomerang championship in Atlanta, demonstrated his technique and skills in hurling different size boomerangs.

The three-story wing of the Andover Koala, which includes meeting rooms, has transformed the 3½-year-old inn into an executive conference center.

The guest rooms offer a subtle combination of contemporary and traditional neutral grays and beiges with accents of teal blue and "burl" wood.

The top floor, designed as an executive level, features 31 of the 60 rooms decorated and fitted with special amenities. This VIP floor has its own private lounge, elegantly decorated in mauves and grays and provides an area for guests to relax and socialize. All the guest rooms have whirlpool baths.

A new health fitness center, complete with a variety of exercise equipment, is paired with the inn's indoor pool to ease the task of keeping fit while on the road. New tennis courts have been installed as well.

Sydney's Cafe, Koala's new restaurant/lounge concept, is adjacent to the pool and offers guests light entrees, salads, specialty sandwiches and sumptuous desserts in an informal atmosphere.

The seven new meeting rooms bring the total count to 11 and will accommodate groups of up to 225. Each of the new rooms is fitted with permanent retractable audio-visual equipment.

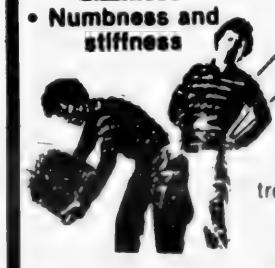

"Koala offers optimum guest convenience and comfort at lower prices," stated Agnello. "Every room has Koala's bedside console with fingertip controls for all lights and color TV, plus a wake-up to music sound system with a digital clock/radio. Also included is a complimentary continental breakfast of coffee, juice and pastry delivered directly to the guest's room"

Appointed President Of Commterm

Peter P. Savage

Peter P. Savage of Andover has been appointed president of Commterm, Inc., Billerica. The appointment was announced by William O. Hunt, chairman and ceo of Alliance Telecommunications Corporation, Atlanta, Ga.

Savage joined Commterm in April 1985 as senior vice president, research and development. He directed the development of voice processing systems and led the company's efforts to provide high performance, high vailability systems for large corporate communications networks. In December 1985, he assumed additional responsibilities for product planning and management, manufacturing and customer service.

Prior to joining Commterm, Savage was vice president of engineering at Infnet, Inc., North Andover, where he led the development of communication systems for wide area high speed data networks. Savage was vice president of engineering of Plantronics-Frederick, Frederick, Md., producers of very large, distributed processing, digital data switching systems for international telex communications. Prior to that, he was with Bell Telephone Laboratories, Holmdel, N.J., in the data communications and business terminals laboratories.

Savage is a graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., with a B.S. degree in electrical engineering and mechanical engineering. A graduate of the Navy nuclear power program, he served aboard the nuclear attack submarines USS Tullibee, SSN-597 and USS Tinosa, SSN-607. Users may access their systems from any telephone, anywhere in the world. Voice messaging systems are gaining widespreaed acceptance and are contributing significant cost savings and productivity improvements to their users.

In May of this year, Commterm and BBL Industries of Atlanta, Ga., merged to form Alliance Telecommunications Corporation. New Physical Sciences Building

Work Begins On Addition

Channel Building Company has begun work on a new 19,207 sq.ft. addition to the existing office and research facility off Frontage Road in the Andover Research Park.

Physical Sciences, Inc. (PSI), a company of scientists, engineers, analysts and administrators with expertise in the fields of aerospace engineering, chemistry, chemical engineering, fluid/plasma dynamics, mathematics, optics, mechanical engineering and physics, has established itself as a leading research and development organization.

Their facilities for computational and experimental projects have steadily expanded with a new Washington, D.C., division providing local access to federal laboratories and libraries.

Channel designed and constructed the 24,000 sq.ft. R&D facility in 1982. The exterior of the building is built of earth tone masonry and rough sawn cedar siding with an accent band of dark bronze glass. Complementing the new addition are plantings, earth berms and special lighting in the garden and courtyard.

Channel Building Company will complete construction by May 1987.

Earnings Increase At Raytheon

Raytheon Company reported a 6.5 percent increase in earnings and a 12 percent increase in earnings per common share on a 9.6 percent increase in sales during the third quarter of 1986 compared with the same period last year.

Earnings rose to $101.5 million, or $1.31 per share, on sales of $1.714 billion. In the same period last year, earnings were $95.3 million, or $1.17 per share, on sales of $1.564 billion.

For the nine months of 1986, Raytheon's earnings were $293.6 million, or $3.78 per share, on sales of $5.267 billion. This compares with earnings of $277.2 million, or $3.35 per share, on sales of $4.696 billion a year ago.

Raytheon's largest business segment, electronics, continued to make the greatest contribution to the company's growth in the third quarter, as defense electronics systems again performed strongly. Major appliances and other lines also made important contributions to sales and earnings. This strength was partially offset by continued weakness in the markets for aircraft products and energy services.

At the end of September, Raytheon's backlog of funded U.S. Government orders stood at $5.509 billion, compared with $4.830 billion a year earlier. Total backlog was $7.963 billion compared with $6.595 billion a year ago.

Earnings per common share are based on the average number of common shares outstanding during the period. In the third quarter of 1986, the average was 77.3 million shares compared with 81.5 million shares a year ago. for the first nine months, the average number of shares was 77.6 million this year versus 82.7 million in the same period last year. Acting on earlier authorizations to purchase up to 10 million shares of Raytheon's outstanding common stock, the company has purchased a total of 8.9 million shares since December 1984.

Provisions for federal and foreign income taxes were $66.2 million in the third quarter and $185.5 million in the first nine months, compared with $56.5 million and $172.3 million, respectively, last year. The effective tax rates were 39.5 percent in the quarter and 38.7 percent for the year to date. In the same periods last year, these rates were 37.2 percent and 38.3 percent, respectively.

Total employment at the end of September was 72,100.

Manager Mary Christian at work

Andover Tanning Center Lets the Sun Shine In (Indoors, that is)

You've heard all the warnings about the dangers of the sun, but as Andover Tanning Center Manager Mary Christian emphasizes, "There's a big difference between tanning outdoors and tanning indoors." One danger of outdoor tanning lies in the fact that the ozone layer is deteriorating, allowing damaging rays to reach your skin. Indoors, you know the exact type of ray you're receiving and the exact time of exposure.

Andover Tanning Center is into its 2nd year of operation and, despite growing competition, they've doubled their business since their first year. "Andover has been good to us," Mary says gratefully. They're presently in the process of remodeling in order to offer customers a warmer and more comfortable atmosphere in which to tan. Choose single visits, a package deal for 6, 11 or 16 sessions, or get a monthly membership.

Andover Tanning Center has eight individual tanning rooms with all new lamps. Customers tan in complete privacy, tanning as much, or as little of their body as they choose. The reasons for choosing indoor tanning at this time of year are many. Some people are trying to hold on to their summer tan. Some are preparing for vacations in the South and want to prepare for the hot, tropical sun. Some are returning from vacation and want to maintain their tan. Some are busy housewives who don't have the time for morning make-up. And some are professional individuals who wish to project a fit, healthy image of themselves. There are as many reasons for tanning indoors as there are customers at Andover Tanning Center.

Whatever your reason, visit the Andover Tanning Center Mon-Fri 12-8, Sat 9-9 or Sun 12-6. And watch for their ad announcing new, extended hours. Call 475-2582 for information.

Madison Hill Upholsterers: Experienced Craftsmen at Work

The beautiful chaise pictured above wasn't always a piece of furniture you'd be proud to display in your living room. You might not have even displayed it in your cellar. Bought at a yard sale, the chaise was stark looking with an unappealing mustard color. After a trip to Madison Hill Upholsterers, the chaise has been transformed. They covered it with a soft Terra velvet, modified the styling and made button rosettes on the arm, put a Chicago ruffle to trim the back, and added a ruffle skirt.

In the background of the picture you may be able to see a Victorian sofa, 4 generations old, being restored. The crew at Madison Hill Upholsterers is also working on a Mr. and Mrs. Victorian chair set to match the sofa.

At Madison Hill they do everything from the very ordinary to the very extraordinary. Owner John Camasso is presently working on a custom stool which he is building from the ground up. The stool will be covered by an Oriental rug provided by the customer. The rug will be upholstered onto the frame, trimmed, and according to John will look like "something out of the Arabian Nights. It will be unique, one of a kind."

John has dealt not only with different generations of furniture, but with different generations of customers. In some families he's made or upholstered furniture for the grandmother, the mother, and now the grandchildren. He takes pride in the fact that 90% of his customers are either repeat business or referrals. "We have loyal customers," he says,"they stay with us."

The crew at Madison Hill has a wealth of experience. John has been in the business for over 40 years, Alex started during the Depression while Joe is the new kid on the block with 30 years experience.

Call these seasoned veterans at 686-7264. They'll arrange for a decorator to visit your house and assist you with a choice of fabric, and they'll pick up and deliver. The shop is open Mon-Th 9-5, Fri 9-3:30. Elaine Long

Farm

gram members have now moved on to the instructor/apprentice program where they study teaching methods and teach small children riding techniques.

Lessons are given in a ten-week block and are fully prepared with a lesson plan to give each student, handicapped or able-bodied, a well-rounded education in horsemanship. Each year, a mini-show is given for small children, with this year's program being designed entirely by the working students.

When in June of 1985 Donovan learned that the Andover Fox and Hound 4-H club would no longer be, he again came to the rescue, and established the Ironstone 4-H club, using the farm as its base. Club members use the school horses as their 4-H projects and are fully responsible for the care of the animal, including record keeping and caring for injuries.

Seven members of the Ironstone 4-H gave a visual presentation on the state level, returning with four blue ribbons for the farm. Another four members participated in a "horse bull" quiz on the state level. The club has just begun its second year with an impressive membership of 28.

Donovan commented that it's "difficult today to maintain a working farm, but the common goal of all involved is to make a rare, and sometimes impossible, thing work." He cited the increased cost of maintaining the horses as the chief problem of the farm.

Since the "Challenge Unlimited" program is non-profit, the money earned from able-bodied riders is not adequate to support the farm anymore.

To keep the program, and in fact the farm itself, going, Donovan is planning on building an indoor riding facility.

O'Brien commented that many of the "Challenge Unlimited" students are deprived of a full program when weather conditions make riding unsafe. At one time, it rained for seven straight Thursdays, the day of the week that a ten-week program was to be run for one group, so the students lost out.

Donovan added that the facility would also allow able-bodied riding during bad weather, when normally the farm would cancel programs and lose money.

About the indoor facility, Donovan commented that "it's either that or abandon the programs here because of the inconsistancy involved...too many days the farm can't function due to weather."

A year ago this month, Donovan located an M.D.C. rink that was to be torn down, and purchased it. Little by little, Donovan moved the building's rafters and perlins onto the farm. At the time, the Southeast Expressway was under construction and Donovan had some transportation problems with the items. "It was an experience I'll never forget," he says, "It got as far as the front lawn, and there it sits."

Donovan cannot build the facility unless his petition for a variance from the zoning by-laws is approved. The hearing on the case has been continued to Monday evening, Oct. 20, in the School Committee Conference room.

The farm is truly a family operation. Wife Katie, daughter Bobbie, 15, and son Duffy, 14, all participate in the operation of the farm. Donovan commented that his children are "very much involved with the farm...they work hard, have full days, and appreciate what they have. They are learning to give of themselves."

The family participates in many farm-related community activities off premises as well. Katie, a bee keeper, won an award for the best honey in Essex County at the recent Topsfield Fair. Bobbie was awarded for her cooking and was presented the first place award for molded candles made of beeswax, while Duffy won first place in specialty candles.

The Ironstone Farm family is not just the Donovans. It extends to O'Brien who has been with the farm for 14 years now, and to all the other volunteers and student workers, as well as the handicapped and able-bodied riders.

O'Brien began teaching the handicapped when the first group from Lowell came to the farm and has since studied methods to make it not only a physically, but emotionally, therapeutic experience.

Carole Canali of Tewksbury, mother of an able-bodied student, commented that "to see these kids is just the most fascinating thing...I have a new child." She has been so impressed with her daughter's development that she now volunteers a few hours a week helping to care for the horses.

Ironstone Farm runs not only on hay, but on the dedication and enthusiasm of the Donovan's extended family.

Aid

Each eligible student may be granted up to $1,000 a year in addition to other financial aid to take computer technology, personnel administration, financial planning, accounting assistant, paralegal and Bay State skills courses or programs as well as part-time degree programs.

General Sales Manager Dave Hartnett with the 1986 Renault GTA

Jim Witt Pontiac: A History of Growth

In 1973 when Jim Witt came to Massachusetts, he was facing the difficult task of getting a dealership off the ground in the middle of the energy crisis. The dealership took hold and in 1975 added the GMC truck franchise. Buzz Belle, Vice President of Jim Witt Pontiac, teamed up with Jim Witt in 1978, and in 1979 they bought the AMC Jeep franchise followed by the purchase of the Renault franchise in 1980.

From 1973 until the present, Jim Witt has been building staff, sales, the body shop and the parts department. Personnel have been replaced in the last five years to insure that the main shop is run by 100% nationally certified technicians. The business has grown to the point where customers can now be taken on an "unannounced" basis for quick service such as oil change, tune-up, front end alignment and mufflers.

In discussing personnel, Buzz Belle comments, "We've become very selective. People who work here appreciate the fact that we are selective." He has high praise for his partner and President, Jim Witt, "He's a very principled individual. He goes out of his way to satisfy customers, and his philosophy permeates the dealership."

Jim Witt has a top-notch sales force, the nucleus of which has been in place for over four years. Their training emphasizes one major fact that sales promises must be backed up. The following are Buzz Belle's comments about a few of the vehicles sold at Jim Witt.

- Grand Am - hottest car GM makes
- 6000 series - solid, successful
- Parisienne wagon - rated best in the country by consumers
- Bonneville - all new for 1987
- Fiero - one of a kind
- GMC Truck - finest in U.S.A
- 1987 Jeep - can't get them in fast enough
- Renault - here to stay

Jim Witt has a Budget Rent-a-Car franchise for their customers' convenience or for anyone looking for low cost rentals. Jim Witt Pontiac, located at 1365 Middlesex St Lowell, is open for sales Mon-Th 9-9, Fri 9-6, Sat 9-5. Open for service 7:30-5:30 Mon-Fri. Call 458-4671 would come within 11 feet of the right-of-way. "The 50-foot setback is there for a reason," she said, "to encourage more campus-type development in the area."

Freeman said that he agreed with the spirit of campus-style development, such as that used by surrounding industries, as a long-term goal for the parcel and its neighbors. However, in the short term, he said, he would like to use the house for office space because it was an immediately available single parcel.

Board Chairman Michael Houghton said that, while he sympathized with the businessmen's concerns, "My problem with this is, there is, as staff maintains, a dangerous precedent to be set here." Waiving setbacks could lead to "strip development" along River Road, he explained, a concept that runs counter to the intent of ID zoning, which he called "the most restrictive industrial zoning."

Furthermore, he said, although an owner receiving a variance might intend to acquire more land in time and develop it in a manner more fitting to the zone, if he were to re-sell that parcel without accomplishing his goal, the variance would be passed to a new owner.

Freeman said that a decision against the variances would force residents to sell their homes as individual properties, unattractive to residents and useless for small businesses.

At this, Eileen Sirois told the board that she and her husband had tried for three years to sell the house. Behind them, she said, lay a 50-foot strip of land owned by the Prudential Corporation; interested would-be business-based buyers of her property had attempted to obtain that strip and had found the company unwilling to sell.

As for the hardship an office conversion would force upon her neighbors, Mrs. Sirois said that those neighbors wished the couple "all the luck in the world" in making the sale.

Houghton acknowledged that he understood the hardship involved in the situation—but that he couldn't recommend for the variances.

"Is there some willingness to work some middle ground here," asked Freeman, "or is this an unequivocal 'no'?"

Houghton answered that he simply didn't feel that it was the intent of the ID zoning to promote the use of "very small parcels" for business.

Ultimately, the staff will forward the board's comments to the ZBA for reference in its consideration of the requests for variance.

Planners Look At 57-Lot Subdivision

Tuesday night, the Planning Board heard preliminary plans for the building of a 57-lot subdivision on 72.2 acres off Dascomb Road. If approved, the potential development, "Fieldstone Meadows," would be slated for construction over a four- or five-year timespan by Wynwood Associates of Andover.

According to presentor William McLeod of Andover Consultants, the proposed subdivision would be built on land split between Single Residence B and SRC zonings and would be accessible from Dascomb Road. Served by its own interior road, it would feature two cul-de-sacs.

Although it is planned as a "conventional" subdivision, a designation that specifies regulation-sized lots and requires no deeding of land to the town, "Fieldstone Meadows" would also feature 11 acres of wetlands that would become town property.

McLeod explained that, because the land was not conveniently located for direct gravity-feed connection to surrounding sewer mains, the project's developers propose to install individual sewage pumping systems on each house-lot. The mechanisms would be maintained by the homeowners, and would ultimately pump the effluent into the town system.

McLeod acknowledged that the subdivision could be served by more conventional lines if its developers could obtain sewer easements through abutting property parcels. However, he explained, attempts to do so had met with mixed reviews—so the developers had chosen individualized pumping in preference to the installation of septic systems.

The deadline for board approval or disapproval of preliminary plans for "Fieldstone Meadows" is Oct. 31. If approved, the plans will be resubmitted for board consideration, and public hearing, in the more detailed definitive stage.

ROLLOVER AND FIXER-UPPER

I'm sure you are familiar with the rollover rule for deferring capital gains tax if you buy and move into a new home within two years after you sell your primary residence. Basically, you don't have to pay any gains tax at the time of the sale as long as the new home is equal to or more expensive than the old house.

Let's change the scenerio a bit. Say, you buy a fixer-upper a year before the sale of your present home with the intent to sell your primary residence and move into the renovated home. How much time would you have to get the job done and move in? The answer is three years from the time you buy the replacement home. The law states that you can defer paying gains tax as long as you move into your new house during a period lasting two years BEFORE and two years AFTER the sale. That actually gives you a four year time period to work on the new house if you purchased it even two years before the sale.

THE OFFER TO PURCHASE

The offer to purchase is the document which initially binds both the buyer and seller to an agreement to purchase property at a certain price. It provides the essential terms from which the purchase and sale agreement is drafted. Both the buyer and seller should be familiar with the terms of the offer to purchase at the time of signing. In fact, it is sometimes wise to have a lawyer review the document. Some offers have been held by some courts to be an enforceable contract. This is because it contains all the essential terms of a contract. It lists the parties, the property address, the purchase price and the closing date. Consideration is paid from buyer to seller and both parties sign the document.

At CENTURY 21 SHAWSHEEN REALTY, INC. we offer the experties to help you, the seller, through the entire transaction from the offer to purchase to the closing. From having a continuing flow of qualified buyers to offering insight into the most practical way to display your property for sale, you will find our experience, advice and ability invaluable when you want to sell your real estate. For residential, business or investment consideration, buyers and sellers alike come to us. Our office is located at 8-10 Haverhill St. 470-3875. We are open daily, evenings and weekends.

HELPFUL HINT:

The offer to purchase can help avoid conflicts later on in the purchase and sale agreement.

The Hawkswood Estate at Point Shore:

Incomparable Elegance
At An Understated Price

We have something splendid here.
A private and very special place.
A haven on a ten-acre penninsula overlooking one of New England's great rivers and 450 protected acres where eagles, heron and osprey come to nest.
Most emphatically, these dwellings are not the typical "condo," the smallish place one settles for when his "real" home becomes too much of a bother. No, these are 2,500 to 3,500 square foot units— elegant, spacious, secure and private.
Very, very private.
The Estate contains only 18 homes, all on the waterfront.
The final three units are now available. We believe the quality of the construction, amenities and materials— even to the smallest details— cannot be approached anywhere on the North Shore at this price
The interiors are exquisitely appointed: Italian marble in the foyer and bath; a grand turning staircase leading to the second floor: Jennaire, Amana, Beckermann, and Grohe in the kitchen.
Garages for your cars and a dock for your boats. Professionally maintained grounds. Services of an interior designer, at no charge, for help in the completion of the decor.
And so on.
You may look upon Hawkswood as a vacation home that you're fortunate enough to live in year round.
Or as one of the last remaining gracious havens within the North Shore, yet only minutes from downtown Newburyport.
Or as an attractive alternative to paying up to twice as much for not as much in one of the better parts of, say, Boston.
At any rate, if you're prepared to invest between $385,000 and $465,000 to fulfill a slightly immodest dream, we would be happy to arrange a private showing of our furnished model unit.
The sales office is open Wednesday through Friday from 4 to 7 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m.; or by appointment. For additional information call (617) 975-5555.

REAL ESTATE GUIDELINES

By Beverly Kimball G.R.I.
Realty U.S.A.
Schruender Real Estate

IS IT TIME TO MOVE?

Sometimes the need for a move may be obvious. For instance, your work might require you to transfer to a new city. Other times, the changes in your life and your housing needs may be less obvious. You might have twins, you may be marrying off the last child in your family, or you might have a big increase in income.

If you notice that your house is no longer serving your needs, it may be time to call in a professional Realtor for expert advice. He may suggest that you remodel your present home or find one that's more suitable to your current life-style.

If you do decide to move, what should you consider before listing your home and beginning the search for a new one? You'll want some idea of how much you can expect to get for your present home and how much you can afford to spend on a new one. You'll also need information about financing and the multitude of loan programs that are now available. Finally, you should understand the tax implications of such a move.

For all your real estate needs, contact the professional at Realty USA Schruender R.E. Call us at 685-5000 or visit our offices at 73 Chickering Road, in North Andover.

GCA Purchased For $6M

TRC Companies, Inc. (NASDAQ:TRCC) announced the completion of the purchase of the business and assets of the GCA Technology Division of GCA Corporation of Andover for approximately $6 million.

"This acquisition enhances TRC's technological capabilities in several key areas including hazardous waste minimization and treatment, risk assessment, laboratory services and instrumentation," stated Vincent A. Rocco, chairman, prsident and chief executive officer of TRC. "Especially with the expected passage of a reauthorized Superfund program, the expanded TRC capability will be of particular importance to our clients," he added. "The purchase will immediately more than double the gross revenues of TRC to close to $30 million annually, making the firm one of the largest environmental engineering and consulting services companies in the United States."

The new subsidiary will be named Alliance Technologies Corporation and will be headquartered in Bedford. Additionally, TRC has established the former GCA environmental monitoring instrument line as MIE, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of the newly-formed Alliance Technologies Corporation. MIE, Inc. will develop, build and internationally market a line of particulate measurement instruments enabling the real-time sensing oa airborne dust, smoke, fumes and asbestos fibers for industrial hygiene measurement.

Bruce D. Cowen, senior vice president and chief financial officer of TRC, has been named Alliance's president and chief executive officer.

TRC Companies, Inc. is now comprised of four companies: TRC Environmental Consultants, Inc.; metaTRACE, a commercial laboratory in St. Louis, MO., equipped to analyze high hazard waste; Alliance and MIE, Inc., located in East Hartford, Conn., Denver, Colo., Irvine, Calif., Seattle, Wash., Somerset, N.J., Washington, D.C., St. Louis, MO., Bedford, Mass. and Chapel Hill, N.C. The company will have a combined employment of more than 400 people.

TRC Companies, Inc. provides services to regional and national Fortune 500 firms and government agencies in three basic areas: hazardous waste management, toxic substance control, strategic planning and risk limitation. The company's stock is traded on NASDAQ's national listing.

mation contained in "Staff Proposals for Revision of Subdivision Rules and Regulations" is not controversial, vital or even exciting reading. At heart in the dispute is a more fundamental issue—the inappropriate closeness of a public board. Accordingly, she says, "We are very pleased with the decision in our favor, of course. We would like something positive to come from all this."

That "something," says Salazar, is a willingness on the board's part to deal openly with the public. "We would like the Planning Board to alter its policy and bring it into conformity with state law," she says. "It's state policy; they cannot make a policy contradictory to it. When information is first released to the Planning Board members, it should be released to the public.

"It's a shame to have to fight a battle like this," she adds.

Crafts Show

The Friends of Austin Preparatory School will hold their ninth annual "Olde New England Village Crafts Show" at the school, 101 Willow St., Reading, on Saturday, Oct. 25, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The show will feature the work of New England crafters. Many will demonstrate their specialities and all will have items for sale. It is expected that the show will include Christmas decorations, handmade dolls, raffia scarecrows, wooden toys, scrimshaw on wood, baskets, dry and silk arrangements and much more. A Country Kitchen snack bar will be open all day and door prizes will be awarded.

Band Takes Top Honors

The Andover High School Marching Band took top honors in its division Saturday night at the Woburn High School band competition, held in Wakefield. In overall scoring, the group tallied 67.5 performance points—2.5 points higher than its closest competitor, North Reading—for a bronze medal and a first place among four Division I bands.

In addition to its total score, Andover also won awards for Best Music, Best Percussion and Best Drum Major (Cheryl Stephens).

North Reading, which has proven to be one of Andover's most consistent competitors this season, won a bronze medal with 65 performance points for an overall second place. Best Color Guard honors also went to North Reading.

The Wakefield contest, Andover's third for the year, represents the band's third first place in Division I—the designation for small bands. Andover has also taken top honors in music in all three contests.
